Our committee of management for 2014 extends a warm welcome to new and current members of the NSW Division. The first three months of the year have been very busy with planning and coordinating the multitude of tasks for our highly successful Commonsense Cookery Book Centenary Celebration.

HEIA (NSW division) AGM was held on 29th March at a new meeting venue – The Hornsby Library (George St, Hornsby).

Found within this June e-news edition is a summary of the member events for the first half of this year. A detailed publication is in production and expected posting is late July.

The Commonsense Cookery Book Centenary Celebration

This event was held on 21st March to also celebrate World Home Economics Day our venue was the Dixon room at the Historic State Library of NSW. It was an outstanding setting for the event and a memorable occasion for the 70 plus guests including HEIA past and present members, family and invited guests.

Chairperson for the event was Claudia Chan Shaw! A first edition copy of The Commonsense Cookery Book first published in 1914 was on display in the AMAZE gallery. On the night, a 'pop-up' collection was presented which included treasured copies from the 1930's along with current publications of the book - all sourced by members, family and friends. The Margaret Bamford Memorial Lecture also held during the evening was presented by the food historian, Jacqui Newling.

Advertising of our event included a radio interview with Simon Marnie, listing in 'Time Out' (Sydney edition) and also from the website What's on in Sydney created much interest from many owners of earlier editions.

Website update

Our website continues to evolve and a new website address has been implemented www.heiansw.com.au

Photos from The Commonsense Cookery Book will be uploaded to our page in the coming weeks.
